

Name: Srinivasa Rao Pachava

Designation: Assistant Professor (Clinical Training)

MYAS – GNDU Department of Sports Sciences and Medicine,

Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar, Punjab, India.

After working closely with the Professional Cricketers for four years as a team physiotherapist, started my career as an Assistant professor in this department. Alongside I'm currently pursuing my Ph.D. My research work mainly focuses on the causes of injuries in sports and the strategies to prevent them. Apart from research work I train the students in handling the on-field injuries. In my free time you can see me trekking in the country side.
